West Coast Hemlock, C and better clear, flat grain, WP-4 pattern, 6" and 8" widths. Sealer (thinned) applied, followed by deep-amber oil stain, wiped while wet. Wood darkens appreciably.

West Coast Hemlock, C and better clear, vertical grain, WP-6 pattern, 6" and 8" widths. Toned by applying nearly-white oil stain directly on wood, wiped while wet. This gives light cream cast.

ADDS WARMTH AND CHARM

The wonderful warmth and vitality of wood paneling can only be partially captured in pictures. However, when you enter a room you notice it immediately—the way walls of wood enhance the room and furnishings. You can easily fill the private world of your home with an atmosphere of friendly charm by choosing a decor that's subtle, yet cheerful and bright. Wood paneling will help you interpret the mood . . . will add warmth to your room and make it intimate, friendly and welcoming.

FAMILY PLANNED HOMES

combine the Best of the New

TO GIVE YOU:

A WISE INVESTMENT: a home that is structurally sound, durable, and weather-tight . . . that will keep its good appearance and high re-sale value through the years.

EASE OF MAINTENANCE: careful selection and specification of materials helps you keep your home looking—and functioning—like new, with only nominal maintenance.

EASE OF HOUSEKEEPING: “family-planned” means a design that groups related activities together to simplify daily house-keeping—that features efficient, step-saving kitchens and good storage facilities.

COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE: every design calls for ample plumbing, wiring, and heating to meet today’s standards . . . windows are planned to assure maximum light and ventilation, and placed for flexibility of furniture arrangement . . . closets are big, and they’re located right where they’re needed.

AMPLE SPACE: each plan is zoned to provide family activity centers and play areas—separated from the sleeping area for privacy and quiet.

In addition, Weyerhaeuser Family-Planned Homes are designed to use standard sizes of Weyerhaeuser 4-Square Lumber, Plywood, and Building Products, so that there is a minimum of on-the-job cutting and fitting—a minimum of waste. At the same time, the wide variety of Weyerhaeuser sidings and panelings gives your home a truly custom-built look inside and out. This 2-way advantage helps you keep building costs down and still gives your new home a charm and individuality of its own.

The chart below summarizes the specifications and gives the page number for each of the homes in this book. Complete blueprints, material lists and specifications for each home are available through your Weyerhaeuser 4-Square Lumber Dealer.

DESIGN No. 5142

FIVE ROOMS — With Basement
928 Square Feet (House Only)

This three-bedroom rambler is designed for convenient one-level living. The breezeway provides a protected entry and in the summer becomes a delightful outdoor living and dining area. The third bedroom with door into kitchen can also be used as dining room or den.

DESIGN No. 5151

FIVE ROOMS — No Basement
1,056 Square Feet

The long, low lines of this ranch home create a look of inviting friendliness. Inside, skillful planning provides three roomy bedrooms, a large kitchen with utility space, and a living room with a wall of windows at each end. A secluded terrace opens off the living room.

DESIGN No. 5154

FIVE ROOMS

With or Without Basement

1,123 Square Feet

This three-bedroom home has been wisely engineered to hold construction costs to a minimum. The spacious living room has two special features—sparkling window walls at both ends and a distinctive fireplace. Built-in vanity adds utility to the spacious bathroom.

DESIGN No. 5155

FIVE ROOMS

With or Without Basement

1,008 Square Feet (House Only)

Open-expanse planning together with dual use of room areas offers more usable space for living, for work and for play. Living-dining-den area faces the garden. When desired, the den may be closed off, converting to a third bedroom. Efficient kitchen includes a handy snack counter.

DESIGN No. 5156

FIVE ROOMS

With or Without Basement

1,157 Square Feet

Wide, durable bevel siding casts deep shadow lines which emphasize the length of this home. Practical and wisely positioned awning-type windows are specified throughout. Note how the washer and dryer are placed at one end of the bathroom for extra convenience. The kitchen features a breakfast counter.

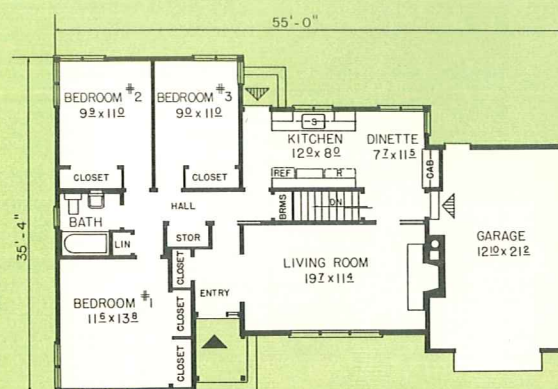

DESIGN No. 5157

FIVE ROOMS

With or Without Basement

1,143 Square Feet (House Only)

IDAHO White Pine

Idaho White Pine, standard, WP-2 pattern, 6", 8" and 10" widths. Sealer (thinned) applied, followed by grey-brown stain, wiped while wet. Wood darkened considerably.

Idaho White Pine, sterling, WP-6 pattern, 8" width. Toned by first applying sealer (thinned), followed by greenish-yellow oil stain, wiped while wet. Finish gives aged effect.

BLENDS TRADITIONAL AND MODERN

In rooms of great charm and distinction a happy blend of modern and traditional is achieved through the use of wood paneling to gracefully bridge the gap between "period" styles of furniture. Like fine furniture, beautiful wood paneling never goes out of date. There is a timeless appeal in its rich beauty . . . a decorating dividend in the harmonious background it provides. Whether you are planning to build, buy or remodel, consider Weyerhaeuser 4-Square Paneling in your plans.
